

CHARGES FILED AGAINST OFFICERS.

Policeman Cox and Stewart
Will Be Put on the Rack.

The meeting of the Board of Fire and Police Commissioners this morning was positive of charges against officers, Special Officer Stewart and Regular Officer Cox were accused by Chief Hodgkins of conduct unbecoming officers.

At the meeting all the members were present.

A number of requisitions were allowed.

Several small claims were allowed.

Chief Hodgkins sent in the following communication:

"Did Bert Swan have permission to go to San Francisco on the 23d of August?" asked Mr. Clement.

"Not from me," replied Chief Ball.

"Did you not give him permission to go to San Francisco without permission?" asked the Mayor.

Mr. Clement said that permission was given for any kind of absence.

Mr. Dow said that it had not been charged that Mr. Swan had left without permission.

CHARGES AGAINST COX.

Then came charges against Officer John Cox which were couched as follows in a communication from the Chief of Police:

"I respectfully beg leave to report to the Mayor, Sir, against Regular Officer Officer Cox." Miss Greene is a dress maker whose place of business is at 907 Seventh street. The foreman of this mill she moved from 1000 7th Street to her present store, 907 Seventh street.

It is alleged by Mr. Josephs that while returning from San Francisco on the last train of the evening of August 23d, 1899, in company with friend named Ben Stoen, after the train had left the platform and before he and Mr. Swan had come along later, their conversation was interrupted by Special Officer who sat in a seat behind Mr. Josephs and Mr. Swan, that the interruptor was accompanied by voice, polished and social, so that on the arrival of the train at the second station, Mr. Josephs was pointed upon by the said Special Stewart and two other men, and that Mr. Josephs was struck twice in the head, and 15 or 20 feet from the platform, in the darkness and when within 10 feet of his residence Special Stewart again assaulted him. Respectfully,

"S. C. HODGKINS, Chief of Police."

This was referred to the Committee of the Whole. When the facts in the above were told, Hodgkins preferred that aagainst Special Officer Stewart, to aagainst that Stewart was absent from the board on the night of August 23d, with another officer, and that he had been bad used before and during his stay, and that he had acted unbecoming and that he had acted unbecoming as an officer in assaulting a citizen.

The matter was referred to the Committee of the Whole.

WEDNESDAY, SEPTEMBER 20, 1899.

The Santa Cruz Sentinel says that eighty-three Populist newspapers gave up the ghost this year. It is the other way around, though—the "ghost" deserted them.

Mrs. Mary Martin's hypnotic abilities are in evidence again. She certainly does seem to possess a remarkable "touch," though it is a gigantic failure as regards bringing about "bonny" days for her.

Hagland is said to be collecting denkys to send to the Transvaal for transport service. It ought to be easy enough to get all they want if they would make a round-up in London while the season is in full blast.

The remains of another unfortunate prospector have been found in Death Valley, a victim of thirst. How strange it must appear to those down in old Kentucky to think that a man would lie down and die simply because he could not get some water to drink.

The Chilkasaw nation is talking of charging $1,000 for a marriage license. Marriage will indeed mean a failure for the individual who buys an engagement ring in that part of the country without being backed up by a good juicy bank account.

Talk up Oakland, do your trading here, don't begrudge your neighbor success, and help along every public enterprise that is projected. If we all followed this policy there would be no occasion to ask why the city doesn't go ahead as fast as it ought to.

Honors are easy now between France and Germany on the Dreyfus incident. The secret mobilization papers of the German army have been stolen by a renegade, who is understood to have fled with them to France. As each of the two nations is now supposed to know the plans of its neighbor, everything resolves back to first principles again.

That Secretary Root is a hustler is shown by the energy he has thrown into the herculean task of shipping a new army of 30,000 men to the Philippines for General Ochs. Every obstacle is being surmounted as fast as it appears, and it is now evident that he will be able to make good his declaration that "Every mother's son of the reinforcements will eat his Christmas dinner in Manila." There will be a little cold turkey lying around for Agabatillo, too, just about that time.

STOP THE BOYCOTT!

Now that the French government has pardoned Dreyfus, it is surely time to put a stop to all this talk about boycotting the Exposition. When the movement was first agitated few thought that it would amount to much more than mere declamation, but as a matter of fact, many interests have become involved in the suggestion, and at the gates of the California Commissioners to the Exposition. It is stated that notices of a number of withdrawals of exhibits have been received, especially from the southern part of the State.

While, as a matter of principle many may have considered themselves justified in denying the State a full representation of its interests in such a manner, they can no longer entertain even that reason now, for by pardoning Dreyfus the government has given him as full vindication as lies in its power. The condition that he absent himself from France for a certain time is not only not unreasonable, but one that he should gladly assent to. If not, indeed, suggest, for if he is sincere in his loyalty to his country he would not want to see it plunged into disorder and perhaps bloodshed on his individual account.

As to holding the nation responsible for the actions of the five members of the court-martial who saw fit to adjudge Dreyfus guilty, that, of course, is ridiculous. Even if any blame could be attached to that circumstance it must be admitted that it has all been removed by the prompt manner in which the government has come to Dreyfus' relief before there has been an opportunity to subject him to fresh humiliation or even punishment on account of his second conviction. It would be almost childish therefore, to continue the cry against what is intended to be one of the grandest exhibitions the world has ever seen; and furthermore, it can be accepted as a fact that France cares little whether we withhold exhibits or not, for in the multitude of displays those that would have been sent by the boycotters will not be missed. We have everything to lose, therefore, and nothing to gain by continuing so absurd a movement, and it is to be hoped that good sense and good judgment will cause it to be dropped.

American ingenuity is in possession of an opportunity to tax its skill in a manner that, if successful, will not only bring about a rich financial reward, but will also be a noble work in behalf of humanity. The State Department at Washington has sent out notice to the various Chambers of Commerce throughout the country that $20,000 has been placed on deposit with a trustworthy institution to be paid to the individual who, at an international competition to be held next year, is adjudged the inventor of the best and most practical device for saving life at sea.

The circumstances which occasion the offer are romantic, in fact, tragic. Among those lost at the memorable wreck of La Bourgoise last year were two wealthy persons named Mr. and Mrs. Anthony Pollock, and their heirs, seeking a fitting way to offer a tribute to their memory, decided to give a reward of 100,000 francs, to be known as the "Anthony Pollock Memorial Prize," and to be applied to the purposes named. The competition is to be international, and the various designs are to be submitted to a jury while the Paris Exposition is in progress, and a decision rendered there.

That there are many opportunities for improvement in the present life-saving devices will be readily admitted by those with any knowledge of the subject. Brass inflated life-preservers, cork body-cushions and other such appliances have seldom been of much avail in an hour of disaster, and the traveler by water always feels as if in the event of a wreck his chances for escape are practically limited to the life-boats. Either the air-chambers of the life-boats have proved defective, or in the wild excitement of the moment they have been improperly stripped on, or it has been impossible to reach the part of the ship where they were stored. Some such hindrance has invariably prevailed when the lives of the passengers were dependent upon them, and the result has been that outside of those rescued from the ship itself, or those escaping in life-boats, the death roll has, as a rule, included all those who have had to trust themselves to the mercy of the waves in any other way.

Whether or not it will prove possible to remedy the situation very materially, remains to be developed by the competition. At first glance it does not appear that there can be any radical change from the existing methods, for the basic principle is to keep the body afloat, and some form of harness apparatus, therefore, seems inevitable. Those who engage in the contest must ever keep before them the fact that whatever is devised must be simple in its application, easily portable and not cumbersome in any way. Such appliances are only needed at times when everything is in an uproar, and as a rule there is but brief opportunity to take advantage of them. Mrs. George W. Percy, whose services toward the achievement of this exhibit's success in the Paris Exposition, and his services to the Dreyfus案的 Revolution gave a short and bright talk on the historic hats, which constituted one of its great attractions.

President Gleason, of the University of California, and United States Senator Houghtaling in the name of the birds to the Legislature of Massachusetts.

A table displayed historic hats, which many of the younger ladies had collected with much interest. This collection included cauldrons more than one hundred years old, one of which belongs to Mrs. William J. Friend and another to Mrs. Harvey Fisher. The last lady also contributed an antique hat which she had been showing how to make.

Mrs. W. E. Sharpe contributed to this collection a huge pole bonnet and some lace bonnets; Mrs. Weston, a cap.

Physician made in New York 120 years ago; Miss William High, some old lace caps; Mrs. Webster, a cap of sheer muslin, showing the finest lace-work of the old days was in evidence and was a source of mirth to the visitors.

In strong contrast with these curiosities of the fashions of by-gone days were the Society.

The hat exhibit, on Audebon Society lines, under the auspices of the Ebell Society, opened very successfully last evening in the rooms of the society corner of Harrison and Franklin streets, and continues there from 9 a.m. until 5 p.m. today.

There was a large yet select attendance last evening to enjoy one of the unique features of the exhibition program that was rendered. All Oakland society was present, and the veneration of the headgear of the fashionable visitors was in keeping with the principle to propagate what was new and interesting, away with the sacrifice of the song birds of field and forest on the altar of the milliner's modes.

Oakland milliners very generally were represented by contrivances of their own, and in the same time to display their readiness for the advent of the proposed reform, and illustrated how artistically bonnets can be trimmed with our numerous forays upon the head. The ladies met in the large gathering of the present season, the Ebell rooms were charmingly decorated in a color scheme of green worked out in the patens and tail grasses, the product of the late cure of Mrs. C. ## NEWS OF THE CLUB AND FIELD.

The regular fall season in the clubs opens next month, and things are accordingly beginning to pick up in indoor affairs. After the first of the month both the Acme and Reliance clubs will begin a series of club entertainments that promise to be very interesting and of high class. The ladies' nights and gentlemen's nights given by these clubs are always very successful and are in popular favor both with the club members and the general public. Both clubs are also paying particular attention to class work in the gymnasium, besides having handball and bowling tournaments. The Y. M. C. A. opens its fall season on the first. The Fabiola Club, with an entertainment that promises to be a great attraction. After that date the regular class work, both in the educational and physical departments, will be begun. Football, baseball, golf, etc., are still put in their good run. Divisions of all three of these branches of sport are enjoying a very busy season. Next month the duck and quail season will open, and this will bring out many sportsmen who are anxious to get away. It is a popular sport for those who are unable to leave their business long enough to make a more extended trip for deer and other game.

Base Ball

The baseball "rooter" who took the pains to follow the Oakland team through its series of three games played on Saturday and Sunday last was certainly well paid for the trouble taken. There was all kinds of fun and not a little trouble.

To start things going, when the Oakland players arrived at the grounds in San Francisco on Saturday afternoon last, they found, contrary to expectation, that Rub Levy was to umpire the game, and there was a general kick.

J. T. Moran, president of the league, always details the umpires on Thursday for Saturday and Sunday, and had sent Rub Levy to Sacramento and told McConnell to officiate at the Oakland-San Francisco series.

The Oakland players, and likewise the Oakland rooters, have no use for Levy as an umpire, and they made it known to him throughout the games. To make matters worse, the Santa Cruz team were held back from going to Sacramento, owing to its being the last day of the State fair, and then Saturday morning was postponed till Sunday, so all the Santa Cruz team had to sit at the Oakland-Frisco game. They like the Oakland people, have no use for Mr. Levy, and they didn't do a thing but give him a reception that he will perhaps never forget. The game was won eventually by San Francisco; score, 1 to 0.

On Sunday morning Mr. Harris and his peasant winners came over to Oakland, and brought Rub along. From the time game was called up to the last inning Levy was called hard names and hooted and hissed by nearly every person on the grounds, and, I think, from the stand-point of an uninterested spectator, that it was all wrong, for Levy was trying his best to do right. There is no doubt that he is an honest fellow, but he was hooted and jeered at by a lot of fans on both sides, who wanted him to decide their way, and he seemed to lose his head. I am sorry to see the spectators treat him so harshly, for we all remember Rub Levy pleasantly as a ball-player in days gone by. He was then admitted by everyone who saw him on the diamond, whether they knew him personally or not, and I think if ten spectators would cease to annoy the umpire so much we might have better baseball.

During the game on Sunday morning last, Clay Hawbacher walked out to the bat, and presented the old veteran with a handsome silver mounted bat, highly engraved, and also fielder's glove. The bat was tied with ribbons of various colors, a very large purple bow and strings predominating—the colors of the Oakland Lodge of Elks, of which he is a member. "Pop" lifted his cap in response to the vigorous applause, and as he did it was a fine halo left on old "Pop's" head. It was certainly a rare occurrence to see a man as old as "Pop" who had played ball these many years, not only in Oakland, but in Chicago, Boston, and other places, standing out bunched receiving the plaudits of the public, not because he has grown older, but because he is still the best batter and best all around base ball man in Oakland. Mr. Hawbacher made a fine speech, I am told, but owing to the noise made, and Mr. Hawbacher's modesty in requesting that it be not published, it is impossible to present it to the readers of THE TRIBUNE at this time.

The San Francisco players showed some more of their "dirty" ball playing on Sunday last. In some manner the rubber slab on the home plate had become unfastened, and the San Francisco boys took great delight in pushing it out of the way a foot and a half at times by poking it with their bats, in order that the umpire might call "balls" instead of "strikes."

On another occasion, Dunleavy came running in from center-field and had the umpire call the game and took him out and showed him where "Josh" Ricky, who was running bases, had the second bag loose and had kicked it six or eight feet toward third base. This is only a few of the many dirty tricks that the San Francisco team resort to, in order that they may win a game.

After "Pop" Hardie got his new bat to which he made things hum. The Oaklands won the game by a score of 6 to 3, and then went over to San Francisco and

Football

Football is the principal topic of conversation in college circles at present, and will continue to be until the great game on Thanksgiving Day has decided the inter-collegiate championship for another year.

The U. C. boys have not got down to hard practice yet. Coach Cochran is putting the men through some preliminary work in the way of falling on the ball, pouncing, tackling and running down on kicks. The men have not been lined up yet. They will, however, have a few light skirmishes prior to their first game with the Olympics, which will take place a week from next Saturday.

Couch Cochran is beginning a systematic course of training for the men this year and will not take any great chance of disabling the players. Every afternoon about eighty players don their suits and practice with the pig-skin. With nine of last year's eleven back, it looks as if Berkeley would not have much trouble in putting an excellent team on the gridiron. The principal thing to contend with will be on-confidence resulting from last year's victory. S. M. Willard will doubtless be the captain of the team this year. If the U. C. boys do not keep on the move they will find themselves in serious difficulties when they line up for the big game.

It is understood that "King" Kelly, one of the best backs produced at Princeton, will soon be on the field to assist Cochran in his work. Stanford has Chamberlain of Yale and it is rumored that Walter Camp and Greenwood, Yale's great end, will soon arrive to assist him. This will be a great combination of coaches.

The U. C. men will go into training quarters about the middle of next month. At present there are about eight of the old players staying at the house with the coach.

The Freshmen are practicing daily and are showing up well. They will have a preliminary game with the Berkeley High school next Wednesday.

The Olympics are having light practice daily and are in good condition. The team has not yet been selected.

Acme Affairs.

The Acme club is very active at present both in outdoor and indoor sports. The recent election of officers and directors has given the club an added impulse and things are progressing very encouragingly. The directors hope soon to have the club more popular than ever. With the opening of the fall season a series of entertainments will be begun. Superintendent McKeon is arranging for some ladies' nights to be given in the early part of next month. These affairs are always successful and draw large crowds.

The team of wheelmen from the Acme club met defeat at the hands of the Reno wheelmen at that place. The distance was 50 miles to be run in relays. While the Acme boys made a creditable showing, the trip and climatic conditions proved too much for them. During the race, four of the men collapsed. They recovered later however, and are all right now. The scores of the two teams was as follows:

Acme—LeFevere, 21:41; B. Ferris, 15:01; Olsen, 20:21; McDougal, 12:59:15; Young, 13:03:34; Bruning, 14:45:5; Bannister, 14:49:1:5; George Ferris, 16:01; Schlueter, 14:37; and Smith, 15:7, three miles.

Reno—Lippy, 21:42; Simas, 11:57:1:2; Hewitt, 20:14:1:2; Reddie, 13:49:1:2; Shante, 12:14:5; Shaver, 13:06:1:2; Peckham, 12:53:4.

Hood's Sarsaparilla—The most nutritious and only cathartic to take with Hood's Sarsaparilla.

Hood's Pills cure liveritis; the most nutritious and only cathartic to take with Hood's Sarsaparilla.

Everett, 14:41; Thompson, 14:03:1:2, and Barton, 13:01:2.

The trampers, under the direction of Captain Tom Hughes and First Lieutenant George Simpson, are preparing for another cross-country trip. These affairs are very popular feature of the club. They take the boys out of town a day and let them have a chance to breath some fresh country air. The provender is always well-filled and all who participate in the affairs are assured of a good time.

The introduction of games and races on these trips is a very pleasing feature and adds much to the attraction of the event. The membership of the Trampers numbers over fifty.

The distance of the next trip has not yet been decided upon. Captain Hughes has promised to have some novel features on the next tramp.

The handball tournament is still in progress and continues to afford much amusement for both spectators and players.

Several of the teams have been quite expert and are putting up excellent ball. Makins and Makins still hold their own and are able to give any team a good account of itself.

Cal Ewing and Dr. Collins are also doing well.

The work of Van and Duncan and of Punch and Stultz is of very high class.

Several of the other teams have also been showing up very well.

Next Sunday, September 24th, a monster benefit for the club will be given at Oakland Park. Already there has been a host of volunteer talent offered and a good program in the line of athletics and socials will be selected. Little and Sullivan will entertain in some quaint character specialties. Wolf and Duck will do triple horizontal bars, and no doubt this will be the last time the pair will have a chance to see them on the competition floor.

Ed Smith and Ed Warren will do six rounds. This will be a good chance for the ladies to see some good bouts, as the girls will be very clever.

Brooks and George Olson will do a brother tumbling act. These boys have improved greatly and will soon be among the top notchers.

Frank Freeman and George Simpson will box six rounds.

GOVERNMENT
HELPS BANKS.Anticipates October
Interest on Its
Bonds.Associated Press Dispatches by
The Tribune's Special Leased Wire.NEW YORK, Sept. 20.—A special to the Herald from Washington says:

Checks for the payment of the anticipated October interest on government bonds were mailed from the Treasury department to all the heads of the departments, suggesting more than five million will be cashed within the next few days, and will, in a measure, relieve the demand for money that is being made upon the banks in all parts of the country.

It is proposed that the Treasury authority take no further steps at this time toward relieving the New York situation. It is believed that the New York bankers themselves can get out of the present difficulty without government assistance.

Should it appear hereafter, however, that action on the part of the Treasury is necessary, there is no doubt that some three or four states, the Treasury, the government in national banks and especially those in the South, are amassing, amounting to more than $60,000,000.

If these should be danger of a moment, any failure on the part of the government to furnish such assistance as the deposits might be considerably increased, but there is no present intention of doing anything of the kind.

Controlled by the Treasury, Daves, does not use the services of those New York banks which had allowed their reserves to fall below the legal limit, or say what action, if any, he had taken or contemplated. It can hardly be expected that any is in contemplation on the part of any of the officials to increase the difficulties of the banks in any way.

WANTS HIS DEATH WARRANT

Associated Press Dispatches by
The Tribune's Special Leased Wire.

TOPEKA, Kan., Sept. 20.—Thayer Cook, in the penitentiary under sentence of death for murder committed ten years ago, petitioned Governor Stanley to sign the death warrant.

Under the law in Kansas a death sentence cannot be carried out unless the Governor signs the warrant, which he is not required to do. As a result there are six murderers in the state prison who have been condemned to death but have not signed the death warrant.

Cook, the leader of the plot to kidnap the governor, has now signed the order for execution. Cook says he is tired of penitentiary life and wants to hang.

"If you do not sign my death warrant," said Cook, "I will take my life."

Governor Stanley told Cook to get a petition from the county where he was convicted and he would consider his application.

STRIKE IN CRAMPS' YARDS

Associated Press Dispatches by
The Tribune's Special Leased Wire.

PHILADELPHIA, Sept. 20.—Another strike was inaugurated at Cramps' Yards today, when the ship joined the fleet. The leaders of the yard presented demands to the firm stating that nine hours constitute a day's work and the pay be 30 cents an hour, instead of a ten-hour day.

Cramps' yards give until 10 o'clock this morning to reply, and no answer having been received at that hour by the leaders, the strike resulted.

The striking blacksmiths, who on Sunday last struck for nine hours, are still out and the Putter Makers' Association of this city has served notice on the Cramps' making a similar demand.

A reply from the Cramps is expected to-morrow.

PARIS, Sept. 20.—The streets adjoining the Rue de Chabrol early this morning, when the demonstration was made that resulted in the surrender of M. Guerin resembled the yard of a cavalry barracks. One narrow lane was completely filled by a detachment of the Municipal Horse Guards, the horses closely packed side by side from one end of the lane to the other. Cavalrymen were standing from the saddle, while the troopers stood at the heads of the horses holding bridles. The Municipal Guards belong to the best cavalry in the world, being tall, well-bred, and magnificently dressed. Looking up the street one could see plumes and plumes. The yellow glaze of the gas lamps attached to the walls of the houses was just strong enough to show up the long, unbroken line of polished brass sabers, which were mounted in the shifting troopers, as far as the long wall, they moved from side to side. This imposing force of cavalry was intended to cope with any movement of the mob should they interfere with the execution of any attempt to rescue M. Guerin. At 3 a.m. M. Guerin appeared at a window and asked an hour's respite to make up his mind as to whether he would submit them if his friends were not arrested. At 4 o'clock the captain of the guards rapped at the door, as already stated, M. Guerin was the last to leave the house. The police gave orders to the garrison to fire on the crowd if necessary.

M. Guerin was driven rapidly away by the least crowded approach to the Rue de Chabrol. Not a cry was raised and there was no demonstration. The guards were not arrested. At 5 o'clock the captain of the guards rapped at the door, as already stated, M. Guerin was the last to leave the house. The police gave orders to the garrison to fire on the crowd if necessary.

ZOLA DEMANDS JUSTICE.

Emile Zola said to the World correspondents: "The French are in a state of insurrection and fury. Now with the greatest pardon of an innocent man the French will be restored to their right and place in the world. France will be freed from the vise of the bandit General.

SOCIALISTS WARM WORDS.

Mr. James, the Socialist leader, says: "The military bandits and Nationalist opponents to the Socialists are the real enemies of France. They are the ones who are responsible for the blood of humanity.

The Lucha says on this subject: "Investigations that are now in progress seem to show millions of dollars of property which ought to revert to the state. In many cases the convents and other religious institutions to which the property was originally given no longer exist and the income is being collected by the government, which is the true owner of what a little determination might have been done. In one instance the ecclesiastical authorities have burned their books in order to avoid investigation."

NEW YORK, Sept. 20.—Lieutenant Frank Techer, Superintendent of the Porto Rican police, arrived on the United States transport Kilpatrick. He was a First Lieutenant in Company C, Forty-seventh Regiment, but was appointed to organize the irregular forces of General Henry. He joined the native force and established a new body consisting entirely of natives with the exception of himself and two clerks.

These men are armed with Springfield and Colt revolvers furnished by the Government. The island was overrun by brigands, but Lieutenant Techer says he has cleared them out, killing 200 and imprisoning 200 others. His men also captured 200 who were rebels.

Lieutenant Techer says that public sentiment in the island is much opposed to the Government continuing some of the heads of departments. Much discontent exists among the people saying they don't want the American system. The Federal courts, he says, are also severely criticized. The insular commissioners recently recognized this state of affairs in a report to the Government.

Chief Techer says the country is in a bad condition. The hurricane brought great suffering and there is no money to bring relief. He is not in favor of sending provisions to the island, as he thinks that money to loan to the planters to enable them to re-stock would give better results if loaned on mortgages. Then the natives could be employed.

It was learned that the arrest of General Hernandez followed the discovery of a plot to overthrow the government and murder the chief of state. General Hernandez holds that he, instead of General Andrade was legally elected, and that he was cheated out of the presidency.
